"Lick 'Em, Lick 'Em Good!"

BY WILL FERRELL IN MUNSEY'S

"Well, son of mine, the time is drawing nigh When you and I must shake and say good-bye. I hate to see you go so far away. But, Lord, I hate it worse to see you stay And make excuses why you didn't go! That wouldn't do—I told your mother so And she agreed, just like I thought she would; So go ahead and lick 'em—lick 'em good!"

"I recollect right well your ma and I. How back in sixty-one we said good-bye. I didn't hanker much to go to war; But ma insisted—said 'twas better far To go and fight than later to explain Just why I let my country call in vain. She said: 'Why, John, I don't see how you could; So go ahead and lick 'em—lick 'em good!'"

The soldier son entrained at break of day; The old man watched the long train steam away. Then home again, and in the darkened hall He paused beneath a picture on the wall. "My President," he said, "I've heard your plea; Just say the word if you have need of me. I gave the boy—I've done the best I could; Now lick 'em, sir, and, damn 'em, lick 'em good!"

Presentation to Russell Haig

The departure of Mr. T. H. Haig for Regina, where he will be in training as an active member of the R. N. W.M.F., is a great loss to the school staff. Mr. Haig has had charge of Grade VII for the past year and the inspector's report on his work in the school was very commendable. As an appreciation of the high esteem in which he was held by the staff and his pupils, an informal gathering met at his room, on Friday afternoon, when the principal, on behalf of the staff and the pupils, presented Mr. Haig with an illuminated wrist watch. Mr. Haig, in response, stated that he was sorry to leave the school and Claresholm for the period spent with the grade had been one of the happiest in his life.

The following gentlemen sent their contributions (unpublished): Messrs. Geo. Nussbaum, S. L. Fraser, W. G. Moffatt.

The Musical Festival

The Musical Festival will be held in Assembly hall on Friday, May 10. Preliminary tests will be held on Thursday in the school on recitation and singing, and the best three in each class will appear on Friday evening to contest in the finals. The piano contest has been ruled out owing to lack of uniform music.

In addition to the items announced already, a silver cup is donated by Mr. Moffatt for competition among the pupils of the public school.

An admission fee of 50c. will be charged for the Friday evening session, but all contestants will be admitted free; non-contestants, 25c. This fee is to defray the expenses and to obtain suitable prizes for the winners.

Following is the list of judges: Musician—Mrs. Phoenix, Mrs. McKinnon, Rev. MacNiven.

Any maker may claim for his product all the qualities there are. That is his privilege. He may even think his claims are justified.

You read the advertisements, so you know that makers, as a rule, are not over modest in that regard.

If you believe them all, they all make super-cars.

In your experience, that theory doesn't hold.

Maxwell is different.

We never claim anything we cannot prove.

As a matter of fact we never have claimed anything for this Maxwell that has not already been proved in public test and under official observation.

Maxwell claims are not therefore claims in the ordinary sense—they are statements of fact—proven facts.

They are, in every case, matters of official record attested under oath.

For example: The famous 22,000-mile Non-Stop run was made with the Maxwell every minute under observation of the A. A. A. officials.

That still remains a world's record—the world's record of reliability.

That particular test proved about all that anyone could ask or desire of a motor car.

Among other things it still stands the world's long distance speed record.

Just consider—44 days and nights without a stop, at an average speed of 25 miles per hour!

And that, not by a $3,000 car, but by a stock model Maxwell listing at $1045.

You will recall perhaps that a famous high powered, high priced six in a trans-continental trip made 28 miles average over a period of five days and eleven hours.

Now compare those two feats—one of less than six days, the other of 44 days. You know automobiles—which was the greater test?

Is there any comparison on grounds either of speed or endurance?

Proves you don't need to pay more than $1045 to obtain all the qualities you can desire in a motor car—if you select a Maxwell.

For that Maxwell Non-Stop run was made, not on a track but over rough country roads and through city traffic—average of all kinds of going.

And—listen to this:

So certain were we of the condition of the Maxwell at the end of that great feat, we announced that at the stroke of eleven on a certain morning, the car would stop in front of the City Hall, for the Mayor to break the seal.

Five seconds after he had pulled the switch plug and stopped the motor after the 44 days and nights continuous running, she was started again and off on a thousand mile jaunt to visit various Maxwell dealers.

How is that for precision—certainty of action? That incident brought a storm of applause from the assembled thousands.

Hill climbing?—this Maxwell holds practically every record worth mentioning—especially in the West where the real hills are.

The Mount Wilson record—nine and one-half miles, 6,000 feet elevation!—was taken by a stock Maxwell.

Two months ago a 12-cylinder car beat that record by two minutes.

Then—three days later—a stock Maxwell went out and beat that 12-cylinder record by thirty seconds! Pretty close going for such a distance and such a climb—wasn't it?

So Maxwell still holds the Mount Wilson honors.

Ready to defend it against all comers too, at any time—a stock Maxwell against any stock or special chassis.

Economy—also a matter of official record.

Others may claim—Maxwell proves.

Thousands of Maxwell owners throughout the country on the same day averaged 35.2 miles per gallon of gasoline.

Not dealers or factory experts, mind you, but owners—thousands of them—driving their own Maxwells.

Nor were they new Maxwells—the contest was made by 1915, 16, and 17 models, many of which had seen tens of thousands miles of service—three years' use.

Nor could they choose their own road or weather conditions—all kinds were encountered in the various sections of the country.

Good roads and bad—level country and mountainous regions—heat and cold—sunshine and rain—aspalt and mud.

And the average was 35.2 miles per gallon!

There's economy for you. And under actual average driving conditions—not laboratory test.

But that isn't all.

The greatest achievement of this Maxwell was in its showing of speed and reliability and economy all in the same run.

In that 44 days and nights Non-Stop run, though no thought was given to either speed or economy, it still remains a fact of official record that the Maxwell averaged 26.4 miles per gallon and 25 miles per hour.

Now you know that speed costs—and that economy tests are usually made at slow-speed—closed-throttle, thin-mixture conditions.

You know too that you can obtain economy of fuel by building and adjusting for that one condition.

Speed you can get by building for speed. Any engineer can do that.

But to obtain that combination of speed and economy with the wonderful reliability shown in that 44-days Non-Stop run—that car must be a Maxwell.

Speed Limit

We would like to call the attention of our city fathers to the necessity of having a speed limit for automobiles in town. Last Tuesday night two cars were speeding up and down Blavier street at the rate of 30 miles an hour, a speed which was not only dangerous to the youngsters who occupied the cars but also to anyone crossing the road. Granum has a speed limit of 15 miles and Nanaimo of 10 miles, and notices to that effect are posted at every corner of the town.

It would not be so bad if the provincial laws were observed, but even these are entirely ignored by a large number of drivers.

The Provincial law in this matter limits the speed through towns and villages to twenty miles an hour, and limits the speed for turning corners to ten miles.

Another clause in the act requires that no male under 16 years of age shall drive a car and no female under 18 years of age.

An enforcement of the existing laws would lessen automobile accidents, while additional town bylaws still further limiting the speed of cars would give an additional sense of security to pedestrians when crossing the roads.

Y. M. C. A. Red Triangle Fund

Arrangements have been completed for conducting the local campaign in connection with the big Y. M. C. A. drive next week.

A meeting has been arranged for Sunday evening at the Oddfellow's Hall, at which interesting accounts of the work being done will be given. All the churches in the town will unite in supporting the Campaign and the usual services on Sunday evening will be suspended by arrangement with the various ministers.

The names during the coming week will be in the hands of the following as far as the country is concerned: Mrs. F. Murray, Rev. Phoenix, O. Mosler, Stanley Wyatt, J. M. McAlpine, A. H. Torrell, J. H. de Forest, J. Walker, C. F. A. Leeds. The town canvassers will also be appointed shortly.

The Committee hope to have a room in the centre of the town placed at their disposal during the Campaign, and every effort will be made to exceed the objective of $3,000 which has been set for the district.

Prominent Lecturer at Chautauqua

Dr. William Rader Comes on Third Day.

Peter Clark McFarland, in a notable article in Collier's Weekly, has named Dr. William Rader as one of the twelve great speakers of the United States. Dr. Rader is to lecture on the third afternoon of Chautauqua on "The Making of a Man," a great inspirational message which is said by many critics to be his greatest platform effort. This splendid lecture is characterized by simplicity, naturalness and force.

Dr. Rader is the author of several well-known books and has made a niche for himself in the newspaper field. He was formerly an editorial writer for the San Francisco Bulletin and closely identified with DeWitt C. Burns, Francis J. Henney and Fremont Older in the prosecution of the graft ring in San Francisco.

NO NEED FOR THE BLUES

The critical hour of the war has at last come. During the past three years the nation's supremacy of the allies has been undisputed. German sea power has been destroyed and what remains of her fleet is still bottled up in the Kiel canal and now the hour has come when it would appear that the supremacy on land is to be decided. The high morale tension of which we have all been living during the past two weeks but reveals the conviction of the grim possibilities that we are facing in this critical hour. During the past few days, as we have seen so many of our brave lads leave for the front, the war and our part in it has become more real than ever before. We have only just commenced to pay the price.

But and as our hearts may be at the terrible sacrifices that we are called to make, our confidence in the justice of our cause and our faith in the unconquerable spirit of our brave soldiers, boys as well as the strong conviction that our final triumph is certain.

The past week has been one of the bitterest of the war. Hundreds of thousands of the enemy have been moved down by British and French guns. The repeated assaults of the Germans have gained them but little ground, and the general estimate of our own losses is one to six of the enemy. The offensive power is being slowly worn down, and at the opportune moment the great reserve army of the allies will turn the tide and drive the hordes to Berlin will begin. Some of our boys who have just left will probably take part in that march and will be present when the allies dictate the terms of peace at the gates of Berlin.

"BE BRITONS!"

Let us back up the boys at the front! They stand between us and death. Let us show the same courage as they show in the trenches. The editor of "John Bull" wrote recently: "We are in that darkest hour which precedes the dawn of Britain's greatest glory. We shall win. The dawn of that glory will give place to the sun of a victorious new day, and all the suffering and travail, the blood and the tears, the weeping of wives and mothers, the sobs of strong men bereaved of their glorious sons, will be caught up in the mighty chorus of triumph, and the earth will be rid of the bloody messengers which has jeopardized the civilization of the world and made red the skies with the flames of war. Here, no fear. Be Britons!"

CALL AND SEE US*At Local Theatres*"My Unmarried Wife"

When Molly Cunningham crossed an accident that robbed Philip Smith of his eyesight, she decided that fate had sent her a husband in the nick of time. Molly spent money to inherit fortune, and time was up. Smith consented, and Molly sent him away for expert treatment. When Smith came back to America he established himself in an apartment and was amazed to find in his home, one day, an Italian girl who insisted upon becoming his servant. The girl refused to quit, and Smith submitted to her persistence. Molly had promised Smith a divorce, if he ever wanted one, and now he was thinking of a more in that direction. When he met with an automobile accident, and had been discharged from the hospital after a long siege he came back to his apartments to find them deserted and quiet. The apartment was unoccupied when the ring with which he had married, in his blindness, the wife he had never "seen"—a ring of peculiar design—came into his possession direct from the girl, who had been the servant in his house. Then Smith got into real action, forgot all about waiting a divorce and there you have one of the best photoplays ever screened. It's a blue-eyed entitled "My Unmarried Wife," and Carmel Myers, Blushkin's newest star, will present it at the Pic Theatre on Friday and Saturday, May 2nd and 3rd, Kenneth Harlan playing the role of the husband who finally fell in love with the wife he had never seen.

Meadow Creek Ripples

Mr. S. Lomb is trying out his new Ford these days most successfully.

We understand that the longed-for herd has been granted the people of this district, which fact pleases us greatly. So "Hurray" for the herd, and look out for the pound! We pity the pound keeper.

Poisoned liver seems to have been scattered with a free hand around these parts this spring. Luckily for a few of the owners of dogs, the poison, which was formerly $1.00 per ounce has gone up in price, and is now $1.50, so that in trying to save money the bait is not always loaded sufficient to kill.

Although the greater number of dogs on the Creek have been poisoned, there are still a few left and among them, the one who is throwing the bait to the rest.

There are certain parties on the Creek who should be looked after for cruelty to dumb beasts.

A good thing for this locality, perhaps, that no one is endeavoring to raise more than yellow cars. A fine fix, one would be in with thorough breed dogs.

The present mail system is accountable for the Ripples infrequency.

Captain "Bob" Pearson Gets Enthusiastic Receptions

Our round of enthusiastic receptions has been the experience of Capt. Robert Pearson, M. L. A., who has been touring the Province since the Session prorogued, explaining the work of the Red Trench in England and France. Capt. Pearson is very optimistic regarding the campaign, and judging by the enthusiasm and energy with which the people are taking hold of it, is confident that the boys at the Front will have their usual share of comforts, recreation and entertainments again this summer.

Lieut. Kennis, of Fischer Creek, former Col. Kennis who organized the 13th Battalion, was reported wounded last week. He enlisted as a private in Winnipeg and has earned promotion on the field.

Mr. Cunningham has rented Mrs. Shearer's house in town. Mrs. Shearer will spend the summer at Stettin.

(Winnipeg Free Press)

Worthiness of admission in a way is the "merch" of the Alberta Coal operators in hastening to divide the royalties at Ottawa that there is no need to worry about the fuel supply of Canada, west of the Great Lakes, since they will guarantee a full supply from their mines. They are not yet to be in confidence or estimation, as it would be literally a gold day to the people of this city if the Fuel Co. royalties were to listen to this story. Alberta is the place where the coal enemies who conspired to open up our coal mines strike every other week for higher pay. The government has a special representative there who is kept galloping around from gold to coalfield, adjusting difficulties which spring upon every night, and host of wages. Last year all the miners in the district were out for weeks in defiance of the orders of the officials of the international organization to which they belong; and during the month of March this year, several coal mines in the Drumheller area were out of business because of labor troubles.

According to very reliable reports, 80 per cent of the miners in this district are registered alien enemies. They have got their wages up to the point where they can earn $15 a day. Not having any use for so much money, most of them only work part of the time, thus restricting output in an essential life.

The proposal to put a city of 200,000 people at the mercy of such a combination is amazing. The first thing that would happen, if anti-trust coal were barred from Western Canada, would be another wholesale strike, which would be ended by the obliging representative of the government permitting the wages of the miners up to perhaps $25 a day, on the point that since coal must be laid, the demands of the alien enemies must be conceded. Judged by heat values, the coal for Winnipeg houses would cost probably twice what it does under existing conditions, constituting a killing burden upon the poorer element of the population.

An Aristocratic Animal

A farmer from Nichol township was in Guelph this week with a load of pigs. The market is down a little to what it has been, and the one keep on coming down for a while yet, and still be high enough. He had one now five years old, a Yorkshire. When the sale was through, and the cash arranged for the deal, it was found that the farmer had within a few cents of $117 for this one pig. It weighed 740 lbs., and as the fashion sheet says, had a waste measurement of 72 inches. When pigs are trotting in the three figures class, it's time we found another name for them, and taught them to quilt, roasting in the mud and grunting all the time.—Guelph Mercury.

A BETTER FARM GATE

That costs less than home-made gates

BETTER BECAUSE

- they always hang plumb and straight. They CAN'T SAG
- even one square of an inch.
- they can't twist them out of shape. They are flexible but almost indestructible.
- they weigh about one-half as much as ordinary all-wood gates, but are stronger than steel, wire, or gas pipe gates.
- they last a week of these gates on land and made up. All ready to hang, including hinges. Look those over and get prices.

We will be glad to give you all of material on anything you contemplate building.
